

2022 L.W. "Red" Davis Award Recipient

Jennifer L. Case, Government Relations Liaison Pennsylvania Municipal Authorities Association

Jennifer has dedicated 25 years of service to the Association.

A Penn State graduate, she began her career in Pittsburgh in retail training. Jennifer returned to her hometown in State College to accept sales and hospitality positions. Association management opportunities led her to Harrisburg where she worked in member services for the Greater Harrisburg Relator's Association.

In 1998 she joined the PMAA staff assuming various member service responsibilities. She became a quick study on association issues and before long was an invaluable part of the government relations team. A vigilant and persistent advocate for authorities, her expertise in the Municipality Authorities Act and related statutes has provided the association, its members, the General Assembly, and agencies with the highest levels of competency and professionalism.

When not researching authority issues, she can be found skiing, biking or rock climbing with her husband Dave.

A friendly face and smile for all who have the pleasure of knowing or meeting her, the Association is honored to have her represent us.
