

Shannon Drosnock

Montgomery Township Municipal Sewer Authority

Shannon Drosnock is a graduate of Millersville University with a BS in Business Administration and a graduate of St. Joseph's University with a MS in Business Intelligence and Data Analytics. Shannon began her career in custodial banking, first at the Vanguard Group and then serving as the Controller for the Dublin, Ireland division of State Street Bank. The events of September 11th prompted her to relocate back to the States. She changed careers and began a career in local government. She has worked for the Township for 15 years: first as the Township Finance Director and then moving to the Authority as the Executive Director of MTMSA – The Montgomery Township Municipal Sewer Authority. In addition to her academic degrees, she is a Pennsylvania State licensed wastewater operator.

She is involved with the Water Environment Federation specifically as it relates to the role of wastewater surveillance in public health. MTMSA was one of the first treatment facilities in the US to sample wastewater for Covid-19, beginning in April of 2020 and through to today.

She is involved with the Eastern Pennsylvania Wastewater Pollution Control Operators Association specifically related to training and education.

She currently serves as chair of the Future Leaders Committee of PMAA. She is one of the leaders of the Region One Internship Program which has been ongoing for three years and she is the Region One Director for PMAA.

Shannon resides in Montgomery Township with her husband and two children and her favorite family member, Buster (black lab/pit mix). When not involved with sewers or parenting, she enjoys live music, sporting events and nights out with her girlfriends of 30+ years.
